Blue Acoustic Flavour

A band with pure joie de vivre and playing.

BAF combines European influences with folk, country and bluegrass music across the pond and calls their music "Transatlantic Music". All musicians have been playing in a wide variety of genres for years and thus contribute to a very unique sound image that the audience cannot escape. Rhythmic, melodious, profound and reckless. The songs and instrumentals by BAF come from their own pen and were just as popular at big festivals as they were in small clubs. Their songs are stories. Currently. Historical. Taken from life. And you can feel this in the interaction. It is the passion for handmade music where the joy of life is at the center.

Siggi Strack: banjo, mandolin, mandocello, vocals

Renato Rizzo: guitar , vocals
